

EMT- TACTICAL® - A.S.T. COURSE

Advanced Skills Training (AST)

for Tactical Medics
EMT-Tactical® & TCCC Re-certification

Rescue Training Inc is providing follow up training that can be applied as continuing education for the personnel already functioning in the role of a Tactical Medic assigned to a specialty team.

This intense 2 day course is designed to update and enhance the training already received by TEMS providers. This module will provide hands on application of medical skills needed to solve clinical problems effectively in the tactical environment. This course will also provide an assessment of student's clinical and tactical competency.

RTI provides a challenging and intense 16 hour course of instruction that provides realistic and relevant training to address the unique requirements of the Tactical Medic.

This course provides scenarios that should challenge the student with critical thinking dilemmas, add a stressful tactical environment due to the use of "powder ball" marking systems that will allow for force on force realism where the weapons will actually be utilized.

The vast majority of training sessions will allow all of the students an opportunity to apply their training in an austere environment.
